

AccuSeal® Floor Finish

Once our floors are installed there's no sanding or coating to do. This is because all Bildermann's Bamboo Floors come prefinished with our proprietary AccuSeal® Finish System. This unique 10-coat finishing process – an industry leader – features water-based solvent free, scratch resistant, integrated layering that is manufactured under the most stringent guidelines in Germany.

Our AccuSeal® Finish System has proven to be the perfect combination of durability and aesthetics; having the strongest possible coat in the lowest number of layers so that you can more easily view the beautiful grain of the flooring, with a finish that will last you at least 30 years.

Built to Withstand the Rigors of Everyday Life

At Bildermann's, we know how hectic life can be. When you're working full time, raising a family and still trying to find time to enjoy life, keeping your floors spotless is not a high priority. We believe the best bamboo flooring adapts to your lifestyle – our proprietary AccuSeal® Finish System take the work out of keeping your floors clean, so you can concentrate on the more important things. Enjoy a beautiful bamboo floor without the hassle!

Guaranteed to Give You Decades of Trouble-Free Use!

We're so confident in our AccuSeal® flooring finish that we guarantee it for up to 30 years! Only the best bamboo flooring company can promise three decades of trouble-free use – and only Bildermann's backs up that promise with an exclusive industry-leading guarantee. Pets, small children and high heels are no match for AccuSeal®!

Beautiful Floors, Engineered for Strength

With the AccuSeal® Finish System, all layers are applied and UV-cured individually to create uniform protection across the surface of the floor. The top two layers – a double layer of topcoat – set our finish apart from all other bamboo floors. Our goal is to preserve the beauty of your floor for years to come.
